

Chair of Operations Management

Univ.-Prof. Dr. Grit Walther

Student Assisstant/HiWi Position (w/m/d)

We are immediately looking for a student assistant to work on research projects related to sustainable supply chains (8 Hours/Week)

Key responsibilities:

- Support for current research projects, e.g. circular economy, bioeconomy, climate neutrality
- Literature research on the mentioned topics, gathering relevant information
- Data collection and analysis, collecting relevant data and interpreting results e.g. environmental & economic data for Life Cycle Assessment and Life Cycle Costing
- Contribution to articles, assist in writing and editing reports, research articles, and presentations.

Qualifications:

- Course of study: industrial engineering, environmental engineering, economics, business administration, or similar
- Strong interest in issues in the field of sustainable supply chains or similar
- Knowledge of material flow analysis, life cycle assessment, life cycle costing
- Experience with openLCA, AspenPlus, MS Office
- Independent and structured way of working
- Good knowledge of German and English, both written and spoken

What We Offer:

- Flexible Hours: Work hours can be adjusted to accommodate your class schedule
- Hands-on Experience: Gain valuable practical experience and active involvement in research projects
- Contribution to Research: Have a direct impact on projects that contribute to advancing knowledge in the field
- Broadening your knowledge: Opportunity to enhance research, data analysis, and academic writing skills

Application Process:

We are aware that meeting every qualification is challenging. If you already possess some of the qualifications and are willing to learn and contribute, we'd love to hear from you. We look forward to receiving your email application to nil.guereli@om.rwth-aa-chen.de with your CV, cover letter, and transcript by 15.09.2023.